Architecture in the name of La - Hoz

He seamless integration of topography and design are the hallmarks of the architect, Rafael de la Hoz, and he has materialized this in the integrated architectonic design of La Finca.

Panoramic rooms open up and embrace the horizon as an integral part of the design. The sea and the sun light play starring roles, giving life to the homes and bathing them in the light and views that are at the heart of the project.

The greenery of the gardens and the beauty of the natural setting blend in with the white architecture that reinterprets the Mediterranean style house with the latest in design and materials.
